DETAILED ACTION

Status of Claims

Claims 1-7,9-25, and 27-41 are pending in the current application. Claims 2-7,9-15,29-31,35-41 indicated withdrawn in the reply filed on 11/9/2006. Claim 34 is withdrawn because it depends from a withdrawn claim 10. Claims 8 and 26 are cancelled.

Priority

Receipt is acknowledged of papers submitted under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d), which papers have been placed of record in the file.

Election/Restrictions

Applicant's timely traversal of restriction requirement between species 4 and 5 in the reply filed on 11/9/2006, see remarks filed on 11/9/06, page 5 lines 3-6 found persuasive, therefore, claims corresponding to species 5 would be examined.

Claims 3,4,6,7,9,29-31, and 35-41 withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected species, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Election was made without traverse in the reply filed on 11/9/2006.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1,16-25,27, and 28 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Art Unit: 3771

Claim 1 recites the limitation "the ends" in line 6. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim.

As to claim 16, metes and bounds of claim are vague. It is unclear whether "multi-unit form" is limited by the claim since the later limitation, "a series arrangement of a plurality of carriers" cited after the transition phrase "comprising". Should "multi-unit form" be limited, then claim may require proper structure limiting "multi-unit form".

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1, and 16-25 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by

Groves US 3,482,733

As to claim 1, Groves discloses a carrier comprising an elongate strip (fig.3, 24,25) having a first portion (24) and a second portion (25), a fold (see labeled fig.3 attached below) between said first portion and said second portion such that the first portion contacts the second portion (see fig.3); and a join (see "seal", col.3 lines 71 and 72) between the first portion and the second portion, wherein said join and the fold form the edges of a pocket or pouch (fig.3, 20) for containment of medicament, said pocket or pouch containing a unit dose of medicament (fig.2, 16) therein and, wherein the ends of the elongate strip form a pair of pull release tabs (fig.3, 18,19, see also col.1 lines 20-24), each of said release tabs having at least one perforation (22,23, see also “perforations extend within the edge portions between the compartments” in col.1 line 15) formed therein.

As to claim 16, Groves discloses a carrier according to claim 1 comprising a series arrangement of a plurality of carriers (see fig.3).

As to claim 17, Groves discloses wherein each of said plurality of carriers is connected together (see fig.3).

As to claim 18, Groves discloses wherein each of said plurality of carriers is formable from the same elongate strip (see fig.3).

As to claim 19, Groves discloses wherein said strip has a point of weakness (see labeled fig.3) between each carrier in said series arrangement.

As to claim 20, Groves discloses wherein each pocket or pouch is foldable to flat alongside the elongate strip (see fig.5).

As to claim 21, Groves discloses wherein the elongate strip is flexible (see “flexible” in col.1 line 10).

As to claim 22, Groves discloses wherein the elongate strip comprises material selected from the group consisting of metal foil, an organic polymeric material and paper (see “polio film” or “wax paper” in col.3 lines 30-35).

As to claim 23, Groves discloses wherein the strip comprises a laminate (see “adhesive” in col.3 line 35).

As to claim 24, Groves discloses wherein the join is formable by a joining method selected from the group consisting of heat, laser, radio frequency, adhesive, staple, stamp, pressure and ultrasonic sealing (col.3 lines 30-35).

Art Unit: 3771

As to claim 25, Groves discloses wherein the join is peelable to enable peelable access to the pocket or pouch (see fig.5).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claims 27,28,32, and 33 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Groves US 3,482,733.

As to claim 27, Groves discloses the claimed invention as applied to claim 1, however lacks wherein said medicament is in dry powder, tablet, liquid, paste, cream or capsular form; and as to claim 28, Groves discloses the claimed invention as applied to claim 1, however lacks wherein said medicament is selected from the group consisting of albuterol, salmeterol, ipratropium bromide, fluticasone propionate, and beclomethasone dipropionate and salts or solvates thereof and any mixtures thereof. However, Groves teaches the pocket/pouch can be filled with articles or pellets (fig.2, 16; col.3 lines 55 and 56). Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to broadly consider the teachings of articles or pellets as medicament, furthermore consider the specific type of medicament contained in the pocket/pouch as an obvious matter of design choice because Applicant has not established why a specific medicament as cited in claim 28 would have provided an advantage, used for a particular purpose, or solved a stated problem. Therefore, it would have been an obvious matter of design choice to modify Groves to obtain the invention as specified in claims 27 and 28.

As to claims 32 and 33, Groves lacks the detailed method steps as claimed, however, teaches structures such as a carrier comprising a fold between a first portion and second portion of an elongate strip such that the first portion contacts said second portion forming a join between said first portion and said second portion wherein said join and the fold form the edges of an open pocket or pouch, and join as cited applied in claim 1. Groves further lacks the method steps of filling said open pocket or pouch with a unit dose of medicament. However, Groves teaches the pocket/pouch can be filled with articles or pellets (fig.2, 16; col.3 lines 55 and 56), therefore broadly teaches it would have been obvious to fill the pocket/pouch with medicament. Since Groves teaches structures to perform the method steps cited in claims 32 and 33, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to obtain method as claimed using the carrier of Groves.

Claim Objections

Claims filed on 11/9/06 are objected for minor informalities: claims are not legible. Appropriate correction is required.

Conclusion

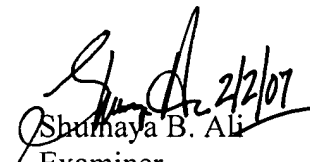

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Feldstein (US 4,274,550) and Glassman (US 3,698,549) are cited to teach carrier within the scope of the claimed invention.
